INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON POVERTY ALLEVIATION (IPOVCON) ON 21-23 OCTOBER 2020

The Samar State University (SSU) will be conducting an online International Conference on Poverty Alleviation and Sustainable Development (IPOVCON) to showcase studies about poverty and sustainable development and a venue sharing best practices of local government units that have successfully implemented poverty reduction programs.

This year's Conference, themed as "Living and Rising Above the Crisis" aims to spark meaningful discourses that will capture human resiliency and management capabilities before, during and after a crisis.

The Regional Development Council Region VIII deems this endeavor beneficial not only to our region but other regions as well, given the topic lined up for this year's conference which are very timely and relevant considering the crisis we are all in now.

In this regard, all are invited to participate in the said Conference.
